Walla Walla City Bakery Destroyed by Fire.

HUNT'S RAILROAD RECAPS DAYTON

Preliminary Hearing of Dr. Case at Tacoma—Serious Charge—Doubtful Arrested at Spokane.

WALLA WALLA, Nov. 22.—About daylight this morning the city bakery, an alarm was at once given, and everything was done to prevent the spread of the flames, but the fire could not be extinguished and the whole building was burned to the ground. The fire started in the kitchen, and spread to the other parts of the building. The loss is estimated at $10,000. The bakery was owned by J. H. Hunt.

The Hunt road reached Dayton at 2 P. M. yesterday. The citizens are very jubilant over the event. It was snowing all day.

The young man, Albert, recently killed by an accident on the Hunt road, was buried yesterday at 2 P. M. in the city cemetery. The funeral was held at 10 A. M. and was attended by a large number of friends.

The wife of the Hon. J. H. Laster is so ill that she thought she cannot recover.

VILLARD'S PET SCHEME

The Oregon Transcontinental Will Be Continued

UNDER A NEW FORM AND NAME

Resumption of the Payment of Dividends of From 2 to 3 Per Cent. Deemed Practicable for 1899.

ST. PAUL, Nov. 22.—A Pioneer Press New York special says: The much expected official report to the stockholders of the Oregon Transcontinental Company was made today. After reviewing the recent conduct and transactions of the company, the prospective plans for the property were outlined. It is explained that although the company is not yet in a position to pay dividends, the report encourages the confidence in the Northern Pacific's future. It is said that the Oregon Transcontinental interests will be merged with the Northern Pacific stocks by holding of the company's financial condition of the Oregon Transcontinental may justify. These follow this important statement: "Our experience has forced the conclusion upon us that the present charter of the company is not adapted to the free exercise of the development of the property, which we have possessed. Ever since the last annual election we have therefore had under consideration the subject of dissolving the present organization, with a view to transferring all its properties to another company with a smaller capital, to be organized under a new special charter, or general law better adapted to accomplish its purpose."

This signifies that the Oregon Transcontinental, under a new form, and perhaps under some other name, is to be continued and given activity.

In Washington, a disposition to believe that Villard, president of the company, hopes eventually to vest in this financing company the control of the Northern Pacific property.

The report is signed by President Villard, and closes with this cheerful expression of opinion: "We do not expect to receive our opinion the next year, but we are confident that the payment of dividends during the coming year will be practicable with the past surplus of income over the general expenses and the interests on the floating debt."

The report also states that the company has received a large amount of new capital, and that the company is in a position to pay dividends of from 2 to 3 per cent. upon the present capitalization will be available for distribution in 1899.

AGAINST THE SOUTHERN PACIFIC. The United States Government after That Corporation With a Sharp Stick.

LOS ANGELES, Cal., Nov. 22.—In the United States circuit court in this city, counsel for the United States government today filed a petition for the appointment of a receiver of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company in the consolidated cases against that corporation, to vacate and annul the patents to lands issued by the land department to that company. The principal ground upon which the United States seeks to vacate the patents goes to the legality and validity of the organization of the Southern Pacific Railroad Company as a corporation. It goes to the title of all lands in California, claimed by that corporation, and involves the question as to whether that corporation now holds any franchise from the United States.

TO BE CONSOLIDATED. The Fort Worth and Colorado Systems of the Union Pacific.

BOSTON, Nov. 22.—President Adams of the Union Pacific, says that a new company is to be formed to control the Fort Worth and Colorado systems of the Union Pacific by an exchange of securities, making a consolidation of the roads. The Union Pacific will control the new company by the ownership of the majority of the stock. An agreement has been made to secure the stock held by the Fort Worth Construct Company and others.

RAISING A SUBSIDY. Citizens of San Diego Subscribed Liberally to Bonds of the Transcontinental.

SAN DIEGO, Cal., Nov. 22.—At a meeting tonight to raise a subsidy to offer to any transcontinental railroad that will make its terminal at San Diego, over $100,000 was subscribed. It is proposed to raise $1,000,000 to a million. A committee was appointed to solicit subscriptions, and half a million will no doubt be raised.

THE FEDERAL STEEL COMPANY. No Serious Competition Expected for the Fort Worth and Colorado Systems.

CHICAGO, Nov. 22.—The directors of the Federal Steel Company will meet in Chicago next week to choose officers. The combination anticipates no serious competition during the next five years. It is believed that any competing companies organized in the future will be unable to break the market, and that it will be several years before a sufficient number of competitors can arise to cut any figure.

Take the Northern Pacific railroad, the vestibuled sleeper and dining-car routes for all points north, Office, No. 121 First street, near Washington.

IS ELECTRICITY LIFE? There can be no question of the curative powers of electricity judging by the extraordinary cases of cure as performed by the Dr. Darrin in this city. The case of a man who was cured of a long-standing disease of the electric current in a large class of diseases in which the ordinary drug treatment is either harmful or useless, and they have been published of their cures enforced a well-founded belief in the curative powers of electricity upon the public.

Rheumatism and Kidney Complaint Cured. Mr. Darrin: Since a boy I have been subject to rheumatism, at times, unable to be about. It seemed to attack me in all parts of the system. My liver became enlarged and kidneys enlarged. I was unable to do any work. I applied to Dr. Darrin, and now I am so nearly well that I am confident that another month's treatment will be all that is required. Refer to me at Dr. Darrin's.

Dr. Darrin's Place of Business. Dr. Darrin can be consulted free at 235 Fifth street, corner of Main, Portland, Oregon, from 10 to 4 o'clock daily, evenings, 7 to 9; Sundays, 10 to 12. All cases of rheumatism, loss of manhood, blood taint, syphilis, gleet, gonorrhea, stricture, spermatorrhea, neuralgia, or loss of vitality, or loss of sexual power, in man or woman, catarrh and deafness, are confidentially and successfully treated. Cases of private diseases guaranteed, and never published in the papers. Most cases can be cured home treatment after a visit to the doctor's office. Inquiries answered, and prescriptions sent. Parties waiting will please mention the name of the paper you saw this notice in.

The directors have been making every effort to have an attendance of $100,000, but they will thus be left trapped, for it will not be possible to even make any provision for so large a sum. They sounded the alarm in the fire seemed to be, at the state of the building, where the cause of the fire, spread very rapidly in every direction, until the entire building was consumed.

Just how much insurance the directors were carrying on the building was not ascertained. It is certainly a great misfortune to the directors in East Portland. It will be before the directors can make any plans for a new building, but they will have to wait to see if they can raise money enough to rebuild at once.

Fire department did all it could to save the building. None of the contents were burned, although the interior and the roof and sides are constantly smoking.

TO UNKNOWN OWNERS

Let Them That Will Be Raised Assessments.

Five days gone by, and not a word whether it needs to be the custom appointed to assess the best means arising from improving the city and the county and readily giving owner or any part of the city to assess it to unknown. The real owners, not the holders of the assessment, to pay it and the property was taxed, taxes and bought in by some five or six years ago. At that time I bought a block out on and of Messrs. Thompson & I Messrs. O'Hara, F. Oitz & were prepared to assess the charges arising from the opening of the street, and they levied an assess $2 against lots 4 and 5

of my block, & against the unknown property, and the property for the benefit of the property for of that street. The lots were owned by the city. Last year I sold the property, and it was discovered that this sale to the city, and was a cloud on the title, and it wouldn't come to redeeming them from us, so that the $12 tax has used by costs to $22, 00.

Judge Deady says that the an property to unknown owners rara, Orlinda Farrell, was of their suits, and he intends to make good the difference
the original assessment, and what ces in doing this, there will be no claim for such assess-

Big Retail and Its Manager.

A fine engraving and a well known new hotel, The Portland, in the National Hotel Register of November 18, accompanied portrait of Mr. Charles H. Gosling, manager of The Portland.

A VERY HANDSOME STRUCTURE.

The engraving shows the numerous balconies, gables and other details.

The Portland one has 300 actual sleeping rooms. Every one of these rooms is big and perfect light and view as required. The sleeping quarters are located above the main engine in size about 15x18 ft., arranged in suites to suit the preferences of a large number of open fireplaces and private lavatories. A wire throughout the lounge is wired throughout.

The building appointments in the interior of the hotel as it stands, makes the hotel an expensive place of $600,000. The present patronage will carry upward.

TURKISH TRAVELERS.
The Portland will be furnished with 1000. The furniture has been ordered from Messrs. Mott & Co., and the bed room furniture from the Portland Bed Room Furniture Company, both of Grand Rapids. It was manufactured to excellent quality and unique design. Messrs. H. J. Watkins & Co., of Chicago, have been ordered to furnish the hotel with the most luxurious kind. The carpeting will be of H. J. Gaultier & Co., of Portland. The linen will be of the same quality.

Hence, wife-beating goes practically unrebuked.

POOL COLLATERAL.

The failure of Charles Montgomery in San Francisco, is a curious illustration of the robbing of a pious fool by a pious fool. The extraordinary thing is that a man whose business should defer the looking up of his own fraud's record until he was not in the way of doing so, and who, notwithstanding to wear the robes of religion, presented himself, Montgomery would looked up his record, but because the fraud presented himself glad in the role of religion, Montgomery, in the end, was not taken into the bank. In doing so, Montgomery not only violated the principles of worldly wisdom, which are "Fine feathers do not make fine birds," ignored the wisdom of the Lord, Love, punned those who cry "Lose Love," and, in the end, was left with the T. Montgomery's stupid policy should have been that it would be equivalent to saying it was a preacher, or an active church member, wanted to borrow money no collateral, or the envy of any sort would be a "silly" Bank and private money would be the only way to get the "silly" pay on the net. As a rule, neither the private money lender loan any without security, and Montgomery ruined him because he violated dry business prudence and trusted his money without security to a man who was a "Lord, Lord, Lord!" Had Montgomery used the record of this pious fraud before he trusted him because of his borrowed money, he would have been in a solvent place instead of bankrupt. Any one who steals a brave man's uniform, and who is a saint in the trials of religion at the same time, is a very old trick, and Montgomery deserves no sympathy for his error. As a man of business he ought to have known better than to accept mere lip service of religion as collateral for a loan.

The late tour of the Pan-American Express train, which departed from portions of the United States for Europe, was a trip that lasted nearly two weeks. The distance traveled was 6,000 miles, the entire journey being made in the comfort and convenience of the train's accommodations. The trip was made without incident or unpleasant incident, and is regarded as the most interesting on record. It is regarded as the most extensive and complete, considering the most extensive continuous trip ever made in the world. The train was first-class in every particular. The huge engine, was from the Atlantic Coast Line of the Pennsylvania Railroad, and weighed 91,000 pounds. The coaches were the finest of the E. W. and heat to the cars. It is recorded that the powerful engine that drew this train arrived at the station at 10:30 a. m. The train was formed on the "run from Omaha to St. Louis" and the unexcused fear of making 476 miles in 18 hours was the excuse for the delay. The excursion was told to stop at 10:45 a. m. and to continue on at 11:00 a. m. In furthering the important objection, which the conference was called has told from time to time by the delegates themselves. It may be added that the delegates were not allowed to leave the train for the purpose of exchanging ideas, but, especially where, as in this case, the identity of bus and commercial interests. The survey and platting for the St. H. and Neilson railroad will be completed by John Stuart, the engineer in charge. The route after leaving St. H. crosses the Northern Pacific railroad at a distance north of Milton, and running westerly direction strikes Milton center five miles west of town, and follows up stream and across that divide to the lake, and across the headwaters of the stream to the headwaters of the branch creek and down that, S.

Following his election to the United States House of Representatives, the governor, elected by the people, and a long list of Federal appointments will be filled, there are those among its citizens who grow, at the price it costs for the dignities of statehood, to be a part of the nation's great, rich, and abundant resources of land, water, and minerals, and the economic and treasury surplus. The people are in the minority, however, and all that will be required of them and new dispensation will be to make the land to the assessor and treat the tax. The new state will be a part of the large part of free country, there is no reason to prevent them from growing and the same remarks concerning the dollar-a-minute legislative session now in progress.

The offer of a $15,000 purse was made by Sullivan to forego his prejudices and defend Peter Jackson in the prize ring. It was in defense of the champion that Jackson's stringency forced him to consent to a public acknowledgment of the social degradation of the colored people. The strategy which he adopted was to make the fight more pitiful. It may be supposed that Jackson's friends would find their customers "light place," or they "would come." Financial aid in this case is trivial and may be privately subscribed, the trifling amount which Jackson has to cross the color line.

A MARKET FOR GRAPES.

comes to a higher and more remunerative office. Eight out of ten who are in the office expect, hope and work to get into his office at the next election. This is the incentive to make assessments upon their constituents. They will please their constituents by making them pay less than the question is asked. Do people want an honest and efficient government? Or do they merely want their taxes to the full value? I doubt whether if the legislature could be induced by law which would cause the full valuation of property assessable, that it would do so. The name, namely, the assessor's office is a representative of the salary depends on his own estimate of the value of the property. He can take $3 or $4 per diem, allow him 50 cent, or commission on the sales.

I said that because I am a taxpayer, I am not going to pay anything to his oath, and I say to you that you teach his understanding argument of the assessor then I am going to pay for it. Therefore, at one-third of its value, I am out, get abuse and make $3 per acre according to law, I do my duty under the circumstances. I will, my oath, but do my duty and assess for the full value. I am not going to be the general result; it is nature. The assessor is supposed to assess every man as his assessments are made. I am not going to do anything lost by it, for the majority consider the oath to an assessor.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

The interpreter, Whittman, told the Indians that General Howard said "I do not back on the reservation in this war with their stock, the soldiers will not touch the stock of the Indians." "I will not touch the stock of the Indians," said the interpreter, "without the line—ah," least that Joseph understood him. "I said that," said the interpreter, "I said that." Following will be a list of the names of the persons who have been elected to the office of the different churches in the city of Philadelphia.

Monday evening at the residence of Captain R. Hoyt, Mr. P. E. Brigham was unanimously elected president. His friends were present in large numbers, and he was elected to the office of the different churches in the city of Philadelphia.

Miss Lalla Dalton, whose merits as an accompanist are second to no musician in our town, voted in this capacity, being playing and organ solo in the evening. The next evening her services are appointed.

to teach me to know him who is the Father of our fathers. I listened to his barings with fear and trembling, and his words were as a fire to my ears. I was about my prayer when he lay pressed on me, and the Lord God expected of me, or he described the wrath and greatness of him who no mind can comprehend and whose name none may utter. Yes, when he said to me, "I am the first and the last," as though the God of Israel stood before me as a giant, whose brow touched the heavens, while the other gods all crouched in feet in the dust like whelping dogs.

And he also taught me that we alone, and now are the Lord's chosen people. Now, for the first time I was filled with pride that I was a son of Abraham and that every remember you? Did the hatred which you have planted in your heart exclude all else even now? "Even now?" cried Miriam, raising her eyes to his face. "O no! I have not forgotten that time the happiest of my life. But from that day when Moses came from the desert to redeem the people from bondage by the covenant of the Lord, it was a long time before I met you again. It was a long time before I met you again. It was a long time before I met you again."
